Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTIONDouble Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claim 21 is rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 1 of U.S. Patent No. 6,665,741 (hereinafter "the patent"). Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because while claim 21 of the instant application is directed toward a system and claim 1 of the is directed toward an apparatus, it is clear from claim 1 of the patent that the apparatus is indented to be used in the system in claim 21 of the instant specification. Specifically, claim 1 of the patent recites an apparatus for remotely controlling a computer having a processor, the apparatus comprising...a receiver system...a removable I/O device...wherein upon detection of removal of the I/O device the processor is triggers automatic configuration of external video outputs or internal display modes. Claim 21 of the instant application has the same limitations, however the computer having the processor is part of the claimed system including the a receiver system...a removable I/O device...wherein upon detection of removal of the I/O device the processor is triggers automatic configuration of external video outputs or internal display modes. Claim 1 of the patent also claims limitations not recited in claim 21 of the instant application, however removal of a part and its function from a system has been held to be obvious.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1-16 are allowed. The reasons for allowance set forth in the office action mailed 10/4/06 are maintained.

Art Unit: 2182

4. Once the double patenting rejections are overcome, claims 21-24 would be in condition for allowance in light of applicants remarks filed 8/20/07.
